DOLLY SPANKER WINS EASILY.

TAKES OCEANVIEW HANDICAP FROM MINEOLA.

Colonial Girl Gallops Home in Front-Close Shave for Old England and Out of Reach-Four Pavorites Win for the Talent at the Gravesend Track.

Four favorites enabled the talent to eash extensively at Gravesend yesterday, where the threatening weather kept the attendance down to the regulars. R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s, Dolly Spanker, 7 to 10 favorite, galloped off with the Oceanview Handicap for three-yearolds, at a mile and a sixteenth. He gave seven pounds to Leonidas, ten to Mineola and sixteen to Ostrich. Mineola went back in the betting to 4 to 1, while Leonidas receded half a point to 9 to 2. There was a steady play on Ostrich at sixes. Redfern, who rode the favorite, allowed Leonidas to make the pace in the run to the backstretch, but when he let Dolly Spanker down it was easy, the Kingston gelding coming home with eight lengths to spare in 1:47. Leonidas weakened in the last sixteenth, and Mineola, hard driven, beat him a head for the place.

Ostrich was last all the way. Colonial Girl, at prohibitive odds, won the handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, with ease. Booker allowed Hoodwink, the outsider, to race with the Meddler mare for three-quarters of a mile. Then Colonial Girl took com-mand and finished two and a half lengths in front of Carbuncie, second choice, who was a length and a half before Sonoma Belle, Hoodwink backing up as soon as the stretch was

E. R. Thomas's Diamond and Flyback. 11 to 5 favorites, were badly beaten in the handicap for two-year-olds, at five and a half furlongs. Blue Coat, 7 to 1, and Czaraphine, 5 to 2, raced together in front to the stretch, where O'Neill came on with the Albe-marle Stable's Santa Catalina, an 8 to 1 shot, who won, ridden out. by two lengths in 1:07. Czaraphine got the place from Workman, 8 to 1, by three parts of a length. Blue Coat stopped to nothing. The Thomas colts were outrun from the start.

P. J. Dwyer's Jennie McCabe, a full sister to Major Daingerfield, with 8 to 1 about her, took the third race, for two-year-old fillies. She ran over Brush Up, 8 to 5 favorite, in the stretch and beat her two lengths in 1:08 2-5.
Princess Eris, 20 to 1. was third, two lengths in front of Belle Dixon, 13 to 5, who got the Old England, 3 to 2 favorite in the fifth race, at about six furlongs, lasted long enough to beat Orthodox, 6 to 1, by a head. The latter was off poorly, but would have won in another jump or two. King Pepper, 8 to 1, was third, two lengths away, James V., 16 to 5, had no chance after the send-off. The time was 1:10 4-5.

In a terrific drive Redfern got Out of Reach, 2 to 1 favorite, home first in the sixth event. for maidens, at a mile and a sixteenth. L. V. Bell's Clovis, a 20 to 1 shot, who followed Out of Reach's pacemaking throughout, was beaten only a head. Tom Lawson, also 20 to 1, ran third. Spring Silk, second in favor at 5 to 2, was back in the ruck practically from the beginning of the race. The time

For the first time clace 1838, when you were one of the "champs" of that season, the Glants have again won the "rag." The boys of to-day who have won this year's pennant have kindly consented to give the employees of the Polo Grounds a benealt, and among those now employed are many who rooted for you when the old Glants were on top: and some one has suggested that a game between the old and the new champlons would be a proper way to wind up the cerebration.
On Oct. 7 it is proposed that the game between the old and the new champs be played.

Richardson was a member of the New Yorks in 1888 and 1889, in both of which years New Yorks in 1888 and 1889, in both of which years New York captured the pennant and defeated the victorious American Association champions. In 1888 the play-off was with St. Louis and the Giants won, six to two. The following year Brooklyn went down to defeat, six to three. The last year the team was made up of Buck Ewing and Bill Brown, catchers: Tim Keefe, Mickey Welch and Ed Crane, pitchers: Roger Connor, first base; Richardson, second base; John Ward, short stop; Arthur Whitney, third base: James O'Rourke, left field; George Gore, centre field, and Mike Tiernan, right field.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK

STARTER CASSIDY TO OFFICIATE AT MORBIS PARK.

Jockey Club Said to Be Anxious to Equalize the Work at the Post—Busy Times for the "Humming Bird"—E. R. Thomas Plunges in Vain-Big Offer for Schilling

It was announced yesterday that Mars cassidy would continue to act in the capacity of starter during the coming meeting at Morris of starter during the coming meeting at mortise Park. When turfmen at Gravesend heard the news they were evidently surprised, for they had been led to believe all along that C. J. Fitzgerald would resume work with the barrier at Westchester. While there was no official explanation of the Jockey Club's action, it was said that the stewards were anxious to equalize the work of the two starters. Mr. Fitzgerald, to date, has worked longer at the post this season than Mr. Cassidy. The latter has been busy at the two meetings at Buffalo, but with the coming engagement at Morris Park he will equally divide the work with Mr. Fitzgerald. As far as the relative ability of the two starters is con-cerned, turfmen are almost unanimously in favor of Mr. Fitzgerald, whose work during the recent meeting at Sheepshead Bay was pronounced the best that he has ever shown on the metropolitan tracks. Mr. Cassidy has been starting well, as a rule, at Gravesend, but some of his send-offs have been unquestionably bad. Both men have been using the same methods, but the barriers are of different make. With the abolition of the walk up" system, which was the bane of racegoers early in the season, there has been little fault to be found. There have been many suspensions of jockeys, however, Mr. setting H. Cochran down yesterday for two days.

E. R. Thomas and Alex Shields lost a po of money on the stable's entry, Diamond and Flyback, in the first race yesterday. Trainer Shields said before the race that he did not see how Flyback could lose. Diamond was purchased by Mr. Thomas the other day, at the sale of Sydney Paget's horses. The pair opened at 8 to 5, but went back to 11 to 5 in short order. Then it was that the stable commission, said to be $15,000, made its appearance in the ring. Flyback ran just a: e has always done since Mr. Thomas paid big money to John E. Madden for him, while Diamond showed nothing of the speed with which he won his last race in the Paget colors. There were busy times around the Humming Bird's book all the afternoon. While 13 to 5 was the best price against Belle Dixon on the Meta' slates, Col. Tyler laid 7 to 3. A little man with a pale face ran up and ex-

"I'll bet you a hundred on Dixon!" "Three hundred to a hundred, Dixon!" sang Tyler, grabbing the money.

"You had three and a half to one on your slate!" cried the little man, boiling over.
"You get three to one! See?" exclaimed the Colonel, bristling up.

"Are you afraid of losing mir dollars?" creamed the little fellow, who was struggling with the throng around the book.

"Not a bit of it!" was the reply. "I wish I had you out here, where I could hand you one," was the next exclamation. "I'll bet you a hundred to fifty you won't ight if I come out there!" roared the Colonel, whose face was crimson.

"I'll bet you a hundred more, too, that if I come out there I'll throw you over the tence!" With that the trate Colonel made a rush for his tormentor, who could not be seen for the dust. Tyler won big money on the Oceanview Handicap. He laid 8 to 5 a place against Leonidas, when 6 to 5 was the best btainable elsewhere, and took everything n sight. He also laid 7 to 1 against Ostrich, and took a $500 bet from a man named Maguire. He held the favorite, Dolly Spanker, Archie Zimmer turned down a $5,000 offer from C. E. Henschell for the services of his apprentice, Schilling, who was third with Princess Eris in the third race. Henschell wanted to have the boy ride for him on the coast during the winter months. Schilling has had fifteen mounts here this season and has finished outside the money only twice.

The Maryland Jockey Club, which will conduct the coming meeting at Pimlico, has been reorganized, with R. C. Hall, president; Carroll Brown, vice-president, and W. P. Riggs, secretary. R. W. Walden is one of he directors, and John Boden, Jr., will be the racing secretary.

J. L. Holland has received a consignment of six yearlings bred in England, and will race them here next season. Holland and his friends thought they had a good thing in the filly Belle Dixon, recently purchased from the National Stable, but she never and a chance after leaving the starter's

Jennie McCabe is the third horse to win in P J. Dwyer's colors this season, the others being Knight Errant and Red Friar. She was liberally played by the clubhouse contingent Rare Music, who started in the third event. was so crazy while parading past the stand that she threw her colored jockey, J. Taylor, of the saddle. Taylor climbed back quickly, unhurt.

There was a good play on Jack McDonald's Carrie Jones, who was backed down to sixes from tens. The Requital filly's only victory this season was in sloppy going. By a clerical error the distance for the second race was made a mile and a sixteenth on the programme, instead of a mile and a furlong. The mistake was not discovered untill after the race was run, but no official protest was filed.

Old Sadducee, after a long rest, attempted to race in the fifth event, but McCafferty pulled him up at the sixteenth pole, as he was bleed-ing from the nose. Politics cut a big figure in the result of this race, as "Big Tim" Sullivan's Old England won, with Frank Farrell's King Pepper third. Orthodox, who ran second in the name of M. L. Hayman, is generally believed to be the property of a well known Brooklyn Democrat. Fritz Lindinger, who once ran for Sheriff against Tammany, was represented in this event by Mutiny, who was ridden by McFadden—a combination that drew 300 to 1 in the ring.

The last race, for maidens, was full of good things. Gansevoort was backed down from 8 to 4, Jason was lowered to 12, Sir Shep was played from 20 to 12, Ikki from 40 to 20, while Clovis, Waterford and Grantsdale, each at 20 to 1, were widely tipped. If Clovis had won L. V. Bell would have taken a large amount from the books, as the colt was played at the last moment.

Redfern's ride on Out of Reach was the most vigorous exhibition of horsemanship that has been seen here in a long time. He went to the whip at the head of the stretch and never let up until he had literally lifted the colt over the line victorious by the shortest of margins. It was his third success of the day, making ten firsts for the Gravesend meeting to date.

Blue Coat and Workman were both liberally played at long prices in the first race. There was a mild killing with Santa Catalina, the winner, owned by H. T. Oxnard, the "Sugar

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD. Columbia's Hard Practice for Wesleyan

Game-Work of Other Tea With the game with Wesleyan next Saturday as an objective, Columbia's football players were put through a hard line of stunts yes-terday afternoon. Coach Morley was far from satisfied with the showing against Franklin and Marshall on Wednesday and set to work to eradicate the faults which appeared most obvious in that game. There was no scrimmage practice of a fixed order, but the players had a hard drill in speed work, as well as tuition in tackling after running down under punts. Later on the 'varsity and sorub were lined up, and with Duell of the 'varsity kicking punts, an effort was made to get the scrub line to break through and block. After each punt the 'varsity ends tackled the scrub backs and Muir and Griswold showed some good work. The 'varsity is somewhat weakened in the kicking department through the absence of Carter, who is out of the play because of a wrenched knee. It is expected that he will be in the game by next week. Sedgewick, who also hurt his knee two weeks ago, has discarded his cane and is expected to be ready for work in a few days. "Bert" Wilson, 1900, captain and quarter back of Columbia's first 'varsity eleven, was out drilling the two sets of backs in the hurdling trick. Duell and Loughlin showed especially well at this.

W. Wood, a younger brother of Chalmers
Wood, Jr., an old Columbia athlete, reported for practice yesterday. Young Wood is a freshman, coming from St. Mark's School, where he played end. He has the appearance of good 'varsity material. Kingsland, from St. Paul's School, is another worthy looking freshman. Drenne, former captain and end at the University of Alabama, who is a second year man in the medical school, and Naeth-ing from New Rochelle High School, were PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 29.—The tigers had loose practice this afternoon. Fun from which the team has been fairly free so far, was very frequent in to-day's scrimmages. The weakness of the line in defence is worrying the coaches, and fear is expressed as to the out-come of the game against the Georgetown team next Saturday. The visitors are said to have one of the heaviest elevens in the country and it is argued that if the Dickinson team could make such large gains through the Tigers' defence the extra weight and power of the Georgetown eleven will probably prove rresistible to the Tiger line. Stannard and Reflerty, while strong offensive players, leave much to be desired in guarding their position against the attacks of the opposing eleven. Both were pushed back to-day by the scrub for big gains, and it is quite possi that there will be some shifting around of the players before Saturday.

New Haven, Sept. 29.—Ten of last year's squad were added to the list of those who took part in the practice at the Yale field this afternoon, giving the coaches for the first time this season a chance to make up three elevens, with enough remaining for a fourth team. The new men came with the opening of the university to-day. Tom Shevlin got into the scrimmage for the first time, but remained only a few minutes, for he is not yet in good cendition owing to the injury to his back. Kinney and Tripp joined the squad, having removed scholarship conditions. Hockenberger, an old Andover guard, was put in at snap back on the third team during the practice. He weighs only 185 pounds and is as lively as a cricket.

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 29.—The 'varsity eleven of Harvard's football squad had another shake-up this afternoon. Lockwood being moved up from right end on the second to that position on the first and Blagden being moved down. Brill was again at left tackle and Mills at full back, but the former did not do as well as he did yesterday. It rained heavily all through the practice, so the work was cut short. Roger Derby was out in togs for the first time in ten days, and he took easy work with Nesmith, who is a bit off color.

The New York University team played with a snap and dash yesterday that was very encouraging to the coaches. In a short five minute half the 'varsity rushed the half dwn the field, in fine style, gaining five yards against a fairly strong sorub on every play. The defensive work was not so good and the scrub seemed to find a soft place at guard. Coe and Miller are expected to fill these positions to-day as they have removed their scholarship difficulties. Mowen, a freshman, was tried out at right half on the 'varsity, and did good work making soveral long runs of over thirty yards. Manchee was in Huisart's place at quarter and kept the team going at a merry clip. He will be a valuable man before the season is over as he has been dropping goals from the 40-yard line, two man before the season is over as he has been dropping goals from the 40-yard line, two out of three times for the last three days. The 'varsity line-up is as follows: Left end, Perry: left tackle, Reilley; left guard. Stady: centre, Jorham: right guard, Smith.: right tackle, Reynolds; right end, Lowry: quarter, Manchee; left half, Rogge; right half, Mowen; full back, Roberts.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Sept. 29.—As the Harvard game comes on Saturday, Coach Ely sent the Williams 'varsity against the scrub for two stiff fifteen minute halves yesterday, and the men seemed rapidly rounding into shape, judging from the work done. A training table has been started with the following men. Murray, Eldred, Bixby, Campbell, Elder, Curtis, Stocking, Waters, Miller, Marshall, A. M. Brown and Capt. Watson. The team will spend to-morrow night at Boston and about twenty men will be on the squad.

PRINCETON, Sept. 29.—The Princeton Preparatory School opened its football season with a squad of thirty-two men. Among the regular players of last year are Payne, Parker, and Kerr. The new material looks very promising, among it being Campbell, a crack end of Smith Academy, St. Louis; Kohne and Laird of Shady Side Academy, Pittaburg; Powers of Rayen School, Youngstown, Ohio, and Keiler of Notre Dame. With the material on hand and with the aid of such coaches as John Dewitt, Davis and Foulke of Princeton, the team cannot be anything but a success.

EASTON, Sept. 29.—Football practice at Latayette this week has been of a satisfactory character, and Coach Bull is well pleased with the results. The scrubs have given such stout resistance that it proves that Latayette has a good deal of excellent material. McAvoy of last year's Bloomsburg Normal team has shown up to be so fast and so steady that Dr. Bull has about decided to place him at full back against Princeton two weeks hence. Scammell is kicking better than ever, and Wren at tackle is playing a fast game. Schuster, Dietrich and Morrison are all out for quarter back, and it is hard to say which will win the place. Dietrich is a new man. Schuster played last year and Capt Morrison, who is handicapped by a bad knee, which kept him out of the game two seasons, is reserving himself for the more important games.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The good showing made by the Union College team last Saturday against Columbia was a surprise to most of the enthusiasts. It has served as an incentive to bring out more men for practice this week than nave been seen for many a day on the Union football field. Every day this week the squad has numbered from twenty-five to thirty men, and there is a pretty struggle for many of the positions. While most of the men are light, the prospects for a speedy team are bright. It is expected that Becker, one of the heaviest men in college, will be in the game before another fortnight. The ends showed their ability in the Columbia game, and the backs are sure to develop in speed with the next two weeks. Next Saturday the team will have as opponents an eleven composed of old college players. Beside Bill Smith, the regular coach, several of the old men are back helping with the individual coaching. Among them are Jones, '98, Griswold and Collier, '03. The team is snappy and aggressive.

AMHERST, Mass., Sept. 29.—Prospects at Amherst for a successful football season are very encouraging. All but three of last year's team have returned, and many heavy men from the freshmen class have joined the squad, bringing the total number of men up to forty. Of the linemen, Capt. Palmer, Diehl, Rollins, Pierce and Behrends are all experienced. The back field still has Coggeshall, the star full back, and Hubbard, last year's half back, with Searle and Crook as promising candidates. Lewis, the captain and quarter back of last year, will be missed greatly, although Shattuck, a freshman, is doing well at quarter. Among other promising candidates are Shannon and Delebarre, ends: Powell, quarter back, and Keyes, Slocum, Leighton and Osborne, in the line. Coach Hart is putting the men through light practice. The first game will be played on Saturday, with Williston Seminary.

DETROIT, Sept. 28.—By playing perfect ball behind Powell, the New Yorks to-day reversed the score of Wednesday, and re-gained the lead in the American League. Considering the team, it was a fine piece of work Dougherty is the latest to join the hospital list, having malaria, and this shifted the outfield. Orth having to go to right, as Keeler's finger is still very sore.

The fielding of Fultz was the feature of the playing, his catch off Lowe in the fifth being a run with the ball. He also starred at bitting and run getting. Detroit was unable to hit Powell with any effect and never had much chance to score. New York drove Raymond to the clubhouse in three innings. A gift to Conroy,

Fultz's sacrifice which was turned into an error, and hits by Elberfeld, Anderson and Anzel netted the first three runs. In the third Fultz hit for two bases and Elberfeld and Anderson singled, two more coming in. Then Kitson went on the rubber and no more men tallied. The score:

teen hits to three runs was the absurd proportion made by the New Yorks, that showed how much they did not hustle. The Chicagos displayed a little more interest in their work. A patched-up infield was in for New York, Dahlen and Gilbert being absent.

"I guess they're rehearsing for their burlesque next week," was one crank's comment; and Mertes was told to "stop running" on one occasion when he actually hurried to his place in the outfield. Errors by Dunn and Marshall and hits by Evers, Shulte, Casey and Chance gave the Chicagos six runs in the second inning.

Mathewson was hissed in the seventh inning for merely jogging to first base with his bat in his hand on a force hit and permitting a double play. In the eighth cheers greeted his three-bagger, which sent in two runs at the second inning.

ST. LOUIS (N. L.), 3; BROOKLYN, O.

The game between the Brooklyns and Cardinais yesterday, in which the latter whitewashed the home team, was played in the short time of seventy minutes, and the full nine innings were played, too. This is probably the briefest time of the season in a big league. The evergreen Nichols was busy in these seventy minutes. He was pitching ball that was double distilled in its freedom from faults, and he chased the Brooklyn batters back to the bench in rapid submissiveness. The Brooklyns made five forlorn hits. Hits by Farrell and Hill, Bergen's poor throw and an outfield fly gave the Cardinais two runs in the first inning, and the two constituted a sufficiency. Not a base on balls was given in the game.
